Welcome Letter

Dear Colleagues,

The 10th Panhellenic Congress of the Institute for the Study of Digestive Neoplasms (I.M.NE.PE.), entitled "Fibrosis - Cirrhosis - Liver Cancer: Pathogenetic Pathways and Modern Therapeutic Approaches in Oncology", an established event of recognized scientific status in our country's medical community, will take place once again on December 3–5, 2026, in Athens.

The event is held with the active participation of the Academic Department of Internal Medicine and the Hepatogastroenterology Unit of the General Oncology Hospital of Kifissia "OI AGIOI ANARGYROI"—one of the country's largest referral and management centers for patients with neoplastic diseases—and takes place under the auspices of the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens as well as numerous Scientific Societies and institutions.

At this milestone 10th Congress, as highlighted in the scientific program, there is notable participation of distinguished scientists from Europe and Asia. They will join experienced, internationally recognized Greek scientists in a major effort to bridge knowledge and seek answers to many controversial issues and unmet needs of patients with liver neoplasms.

We have the distinct honor of welcoming to this year's Congress:

• Professor Maria Reig, Director of the renowned Liver Cancer Unit at Hospital Clínic de Barcelona and the Barcelona Clinic Liver Cancer (BCLC) group, which has established global standards in the staging and treatment of hepatocellular carcinoma.

• Professor Hon Jae Chon (Korea), Director of the Department of Medical Oncology at CHA University Bundang Medical Center, an internationally recognized scientist in the management of hepatocellular carcinoma and cholangiocarcinoma, as well as in the development of innovative therapeutic approaches.

• Professor Pierre Nahon (France), Service d'Hépatologie APHP, Hôpital Avicenne, Bobigny, Université Sorbonne Paris Nord, with extensive participation in international multicenter studies on hepatocellular carcinoma.

• Professor Beatriz Mínguez, Head of the Clinical Hepatology Section and Liver Unit, Hospital Universitari Vall d'Hebron, Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona Vall d'Hebron Institute of Research (VHIR) CIBERehd, Barcelona Hospital Campus.

The in-person participation of all these world-renowned scientists is a special honor and satisfaction for the Institute for the Study of Digestive Neoplasms and the Organizing Committee of the Congress. It will offer the Greek medical community an opportunity for direct interaction and exchange of views during the "HCC Meet-the-Expert Session", scheduled for Thursday, December 3, 2026, the opening day of our Congress.

WELCOME LETTER

You will also notice from the program that most round tables feature real-world clinical cases of patients treated at our Hospital, presented by younger colleagues. These cases will serve as the basis for lectures and commentaries by experts who possess extensive experience and specialized dedication to the field, alongside proper educational proficiency, ensuring the educational character of the meeting.

Furthermore, issues commonly encountered in patients treated at general and oncology hospitals, as well as rare syndromes and conditions, will be discussed in detail with broad interdisciplinary participation, expanding the knowledge of all attendees. Participation will be exclusively in person, as the Congress proceedings will not be broadcast online.

We look forward to welcoming you all to actively participate in this landmark 10th Panhellenic Congress with extensive International Participation and contribute to its success.

With warm collegial regards,

Ioannis S. Elefsiniotis

Professor of Internal Medicine & Hepatology,
National and Kapodistrian University of Athens

Session που έχει προγραμματισθεί για την Πέμπτη 3/12/2026, πρώτη ημέρα του Συνεδρίου μας.

Θα παρατηρήσετε επίσης από το πρόγραμμα του Συνεδρίου ότι τα περισσότερα στρογγυλά τραπέζια παραθέτουν περιστατικά ασθενών της καθημερινής κλινικής πρακτικής που αντιμετωπίσθηκαν στο Νοσοκομείο μας και παρουσιάζονται από νεότερους συναδέλφους, πάνω στα οποία θα βασισθούν οι εισηγήσεις και οι σχολιασμοί των ειδικών, από επιστήμονες με ιδιαίτερη εμπειρία και ενασχόληση με το αντικείμενο αλλά και με την δέουσα εκπαιδευτική δεινότητα που διασφαλίζουν τον εκπαιδευτικό χαρακτήρα της συνάντησης.

Επίσης θα συζητηθούν διεξοδικά και με ευρεία διεπιστημονική συμμετοχή προβλήματα που απαντώνται πολύ συχνά σε ασθενείς γενικών και ογκολογικών νοσηλευτικών ιδρυμάτων καθώς και σπάνια εμφανιζόμενα σύνδρομα και καταστάσεις, που πιστεύουμε θα διευρύνουν τις γνώσεις όλων των παρευρισκόμενων. Η συμμετοχή όλων θα είναι αποκλειστικά με φυσική παρουσία αφού δεν θα γίνει διαδικτυακή προβολή των εργασιών του Συνεδρίου.
